Students enrolled in individually paced courses may start at any time of year and proceed at their own pace. Allow at least two weeks for application processing. Financial aid applicants must submit materials at least 30 days in advance of the requested start date.

Notice of Nondiscriminatory Policy

The Johns Hopkins University admits students of any race, color, sex, religion, national or ethnic origin, age, disability, or veteran status to all of the rights, privileges, programs, benefits, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the university. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, religion, sexual orientation, national or ethnic origin, age, disability, or veteran status in any program or activity, including the administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other university-administered programs or in employment. Accordingly, The Johns Hopkins University does not take into consideration personal factors that are irrelevant to its program.

Questions regarding access to programs following Title VI, Title IX, and Section 504, should be referred to the university's Affirmative Action Officer, Garland Hall, Room 205, 410-516-8075.

Policy on the Privacy Rights of Students

Parents and students 18 and older have the following rights: (1) to inspect and review their education records, as defined in the regulations; (2) to request the amendment of their education records if they are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student's rights; (3) to consent to the disclosure of personally identifiable information in their education records except to the extent permitted by law, regulation, or CTY policy; and (4) to file a complaint with the United States Department of Education if CTY has failed to comply with the requirements of law or regulation. Copies of CTY's policy on Family Educational Rights and Privacy are available from our Communications Office.
